

Invite you to join us:

“This Place Matters”

Students at California State University, San Bernardino (CSUSB) recently partnered with Coyote Radio and Save Our Chinatown Committee (SOCC) of Riverside to research Chinatown’s history and record oral history interviews.

Please come join CSUSB students, faculty, and SOCC committee members in a public event to hear more about this project and to see what you can do to help save this historical treasure.

*This Place Matters!

- Saturday, Sept 6, 2014
- 2:00 - 3:30 p.m.
- Center for Social Justice and Civil Liberties
- 3855 Market St., Riverside
- Mooncakes and light refreshments.
- Free to the Public.

If you would like more information, please contact:

Professor Cherstin Lyon
CSUSB Public and Oral History
E-mail: clyon@csusb.edu
Phone: (909) 537-5524

* Use of “This Place Matters” courtesy of the National Trust for Historic Preservation’s challenge to communities to preserve and celebrate places that matter within their communities.

